About Town:

Deep roots, strong spirit

By Daryl Fisher
Features Editor

Yoshie Iwasaki recently celebrated her 90th birthday and she has spent almost 60 of those years living in West Sacramento.

"I was born and raised in the Bay Area," said Yoshie, "and I really enjoyed the time I spent there. After I got out of school, I worked for a large import/export firm and I was given a number of nice promotions. Those were the train and ferry days and my friends and I went everywhere, especially to the movies and to dances. I had three brothers and one sister, and we were a very close family."

When Yoshie reached her late 20s, her family decided it was time to start encouraging her to think about getting married.

"In those days," remembered Yoshie with a smile, "if a girl wasn't married by the time she was 25, she was considered an old maid. So a couple of my uncles got together and arranged for me to meet a young man named Nathan Iwasaki who was farming sugar beets in the Clarksburg area. Back then, it cost $1.99 to take the train from San Francisco to Sacramento, and after I had visited Nathan a number of times, our marriage was arranged. He was very nice, quiet, and hard working and it turned out to be a wonderful marriage."

Nathan and Yoshie had only been married a few years when Pearl Harbor was suddenly attacked and World War Two broke out.

"I heard the sad news over the radio," recalled Yoshie, "and at first, my husband didn't believe me when I told him. He was very surprised and he said it was a terrible, crazy thing to do."

Within a month of the bombing, the fear of a West Coast invasion and the racial prejudice against Japanese Americans which was already deeply rooted in California, meshed together and resulted in the creation of something called the War Relocation Authority. That governmental agency was given the task of relocating more than 110,000 Japanese-Americans from their West Coast homes and businesses to internment camps (Yoshie calls them concentration camps) in isolated parts of California, Arizona, Utah, Colorado, Wyoming, Arkansas and Idaho.

YOSHIE IWASAKI

"About 20 members of my family were sent by train to Tule Lake, which is in northern California, near the Oregon border," remembered Yoshie. "The shades on the train windows were all pulled down and we were only allowed to take one suitcase each. When we arrived, they put three or four families in every barracks, which looked like horse stables. There was no privacy, not even to use the bathroom, and the rice they fed us was yellow and had to have vinegar put in it to make it look white. Every family was referred to by its number, not its name, and it was a very difficult time, especially for the young people, who didn't want to be all cooped up. It was very depressing for the adults, too. Like me, most of the people there had never even been to Japan, but they thought we were spies or something. The camp was overcrowded, had barbed wire all around it, and there was little to do except work on crafts or dig up potatoes for $16 a month. Plus soldiers with bayonets were always outside our barracks and tanks would go through the camp at night. When I look back on it, it's all very hard to believe."

'Like me, most of the people there had never even been to Japan, but they thought we were spies or something. . . there was little to do except work on crafts or dig up potatoes for $16 a month.'

-- YOSHIE IWASAKI

In 1945, more than three years after they had first been relocated, Yoshie and her family were finally allowed to return to their family farm located just off Jefferson Boulevard.

"All of our savings were gone and we had nothing left except for a few things we had managed to put in storage," said Yoshie, "but my husband built us a little one room house with running water and things slowly got better. Seven years after we had returned we were able to build a bigger house so our children could have more room and I have lived in it ever since."

While Nathan was farming his own land as well as lands owned by the Turner, Violetti, and Williams families, Yoshie was busy raising their three children, each of which turned out to be either the valedictorian or salutatorian of their respective Clarksburg High School graduating classes.

"My husband only had a grade school education," said Yoshie, "and we were both determined that our children get the best education they possibly could and we were very proud and happy that they did."

Nathan Iwasaki died in 1968 from a stroke, but Yoshie stayed on their land and even managed to fight off an ill-advised effort by West Sacramento's Washington Unified School District a decade ago to take it away from her.

"The School Board wanted to build a new high school," explained Yoshie, "and for reasons that were never completely explained to me, they decided they needed my family's 70 acres of land to do it. No one contacted me or anything and I actually found out about it in the newspaper. Anyway, I had already been forced to move off this land once in my lifetime and I just wasn't going to do it again, and with the help of my family and local television stations and newspapers and lots of people I didn't even know, we got them to change their mind pretty quickly. It just goes to show what people can do if they are determined and willing to fight for what they know is right."

When looking back over her long and eventful life, including the years she and her family were forced to spend in internment camps, Yoshie finds little to be bitter about.

"My husband used to say that since there was nothing we could do about it, we shouldn't spend a lot of time worrying about it," said

Closed-door session to address Brown Act, interim RCHS principal

■ Board members' conferences on Friday raise new Brown Act questions

By Steve Marschke
News-Ledger Editor

Four of WUSD's five school board members were at district offices Friday to discuss a concern about the wording of a draft agenda item for their meeting tomorrow. Although several of the trustees stressed that pains were taken to avoid violating state "open meetings" laws during these talks, it was not immediately clear whether they succeeded.

The agenda topic itself involves possible previous violations of the same law, known as the Brown Act.

"We were just discussing the wording of an agenda item," said trustee Ardeene Westvik, upon exiting her conference Friday with board member Ed Hocking. "There was no Brown Act violation."

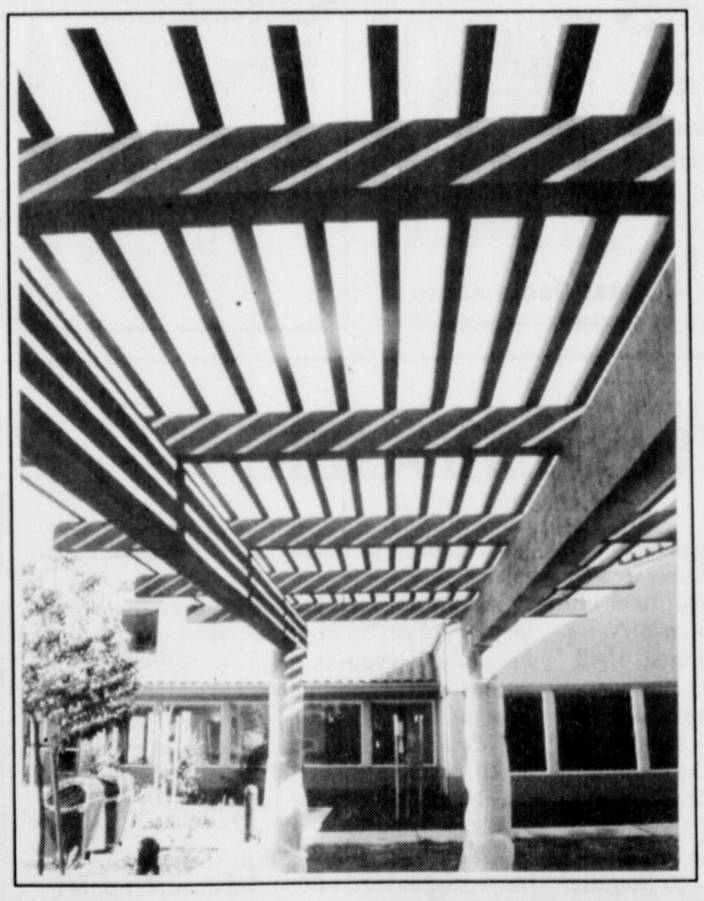

Westvik also said that the four board members split into two separate rooms to avoid the appearance of impropriety.

Hocking and Westvik explained that no business other than the wording of a closed session agenda item for Thursday was discussed by either of the two groups of two board members present at the district's Westacre Road headquarters. Westvik said this topic was legal for board members to discuss with each other outside of an official meeting.

In general, a "quorum" of school board members (in WUSD's case, three or more) is prohibited from conducting business outside of an advertised, public meeting. The law even bans unorthodox "meetings" such as a series of linked phone calls or the sending of messages through intermediaries – any communications which add up to deliberation or an action by a quorum of the board. The same law applies to city councils and other local, elected bodies.

While Hocking and Westvik conferred about the agenda item in one conference room Friday, board member David Farmer met with board president Pat Flint down the hall to discuss the same topic. Then Farmer met with Westvik for a few words about it. A draft agenda item for tomorrow's meeting was

THE PATIO TRELLIS at Margaret McDowell Manor on Merkley Ave. provides a light-and-dark pattern for photographers, as well as shade and comfort for future residents.

The West Sacramento Redevelopment Agency reports that over 90 percent of the apartments at the site (between US Bank and the Merkley Ave. post office) have already been leased.

Residents are due to begin moving in later this month, capping an odyssey that began over five years ago when the city shut down the former Vacation Inn at the site.

The $5.5 million structure was developed by Christian Church Homes of Northern California and includes 87 units and a community room with a kitchen, crafts room and library.

Residents must meet income requirements. For information, call 371-7788.

Lawsuit threat retreating:

Ballpark backers set new timeline for construction bonds

By Steve Marschke
News-Ledger Editor

West Sacramento officials believe they are beyond the reach of additional lawsuits, and plan to release the ever-delayed stadium construction bonds "sometime this month."

Les Bowman, program manager for the West Sacramento Redevelopment Agency, said yesterday that while there is a "gray area" in the time limit for the "Friends of Sacramento" group to appeal a judge's decision which tossed out their anti-stadium lawsuit, "we think it has expired."

"There has been no new litigation filed, and we are not aware of any appeals that have been filed," he said.

"Friends of Sacramento" attorney John Latini has not returned numerous calls from the News-Ledger. The identities of most of his clients – rumored to involve competing baseball interests – remain unknown.

Bowman said that the "Joint Powers Authority" involving Sacramento County, Yolo County and West Sacramento is now set to sell $40 million worth of bonds. The money will help River City Baseball build a riverfront baseball stadium just southwest of the Tower Bridge. Team owner Art Savage can then bring his newly-acquired Triple-A team to town in time for the season beginning in April.

The legal delays brought by the lawsuit have led to construction delays.

"I think River City Baseball is still focused on playing next spring here," said Bowman. "But will it be April 1, the season opener, or some later date? We just don't know. Everybody's anticipating that these delays will add up to a delay in ballpark construction, but if we have a dry winter, they could catch up. It will be spring of next year, whether it's April 1 or later."

Stabbing remains mysterious

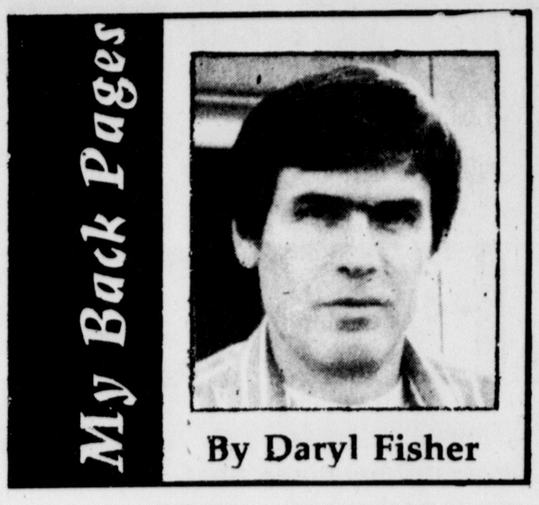

A female victim and witness are "uncooperative" following a stabbing in West Sacramento in the early hours of Saturday morning.

"We received a call from Sutter Davis Hospital that they had a victim with multiple stab wounds," said Lt. David Farmer of the West Sacramento Police Dept. "Apparently, all of this started outside near Pecan and Michigan in West Sacramento.

There were words exchanged and two people got into a fight and the victim got stabbed four times."

The female victim is recovering, he said, and the weapon used was found nearby. Farmer said police were receiving little help from the victim and witness, and requested that further information be withheld until the investigation proceeds.

The last thing I want to do is be politically incorrect

"Is that what I think it is?" angrily demanded my twenty-something year-old daughter, pointing down at a book I was thumbing through.

"What?" I asked defensively. "You mean this little book I'm reading?"

"That's right! Is it what I think it is or not?"

"Well, I guess that would depend. What do you think it is?"

"Well, I guess you could call it that."

"You guess? It says `1000 dumb blond' jokes on the cover! Now where did you get it?"

"One of my friends gave it to me," I mumbled.

"Why did he give it to you?"

"Well, he just thought there might be a few jokes in it I could use for the column."

"What?" my daughter asked in disbelief. "Don't tell me you're actually going to put `dumb blond' jokes in one of your newspaper columns?"

"Well," I admitted, "maybe just a few."

"But Dad, you can't do that!"

"Why not?"

"Because not only is it politically incorrect, it's also absolutely tasteless!"

"But just listen to a few of these jokes," I pleaded. "For instance, `Why did the blond get fired from the M&M candy factory -- because she kept throwing out all the W's'. Now you got to admit, that's pretty funny."

"No, it isn't!"

"Then how about this one? `How do you sink a submarine full of blonds -- you just knock on the door'."

"That's not the least bit funny, either," my daughter assured me, slowly shaking her head from side to side.

"Then what about this? `How do you get a one-armed blond out of a tree -- you wave to her'?"

"Stop it!"

A few days later, as I sat down at my computer to begin putting together this week's column, I happened to notice a notebook on my desk that I was sure I hadn't placed there. On the first page, in my daughter's handwriting, was the following: Why don't you try putting a few of these in your stupid column!

(1) "I'm not offended by all the dumb blond jokes because I know I'm not dumb, and I also know that I'm not blond." Dolly Parton

(2) "You see a lot of smart guys with dumb women, but you hardly ever see a smart woman with a dumb guy." Erica Jong

(3) "I'm not going to vacuum until Sears makes one you can ride." Roseanne Barr

(4) "I think, therefore I'm single." Lizz Winstead

(5) "When women are depressed they either eat or go shopping. When men are depressed, they invade another country." Elayne Boosler

(6) "Behind every successful man is a surprised woman." Maryon Pearson

(7) "In politics, if you want anything said, ask a man; But if you actually want something done, ask a woman." Margaret Thatcher

(8) "I have yet to hear a man ask for advice on how to combine marriage and a career." Gloria Steinhem.

(9) "I have never married because there was no need. I have three pets at home which serve the same purpose as a husband. I have a dog which growls every morning, a parrot which swears all afternoon, and a cat that comes home late at night." Marie Corelli

(10) "If men can run the world, why can't they stop wearing neckties? I mean, how intelligent is it to start the day by tying a little noose around your neck?" Linda Ellerbee

The next time I saw my daughter, she was wearing a T-shirt that read, 'Next mood swing: 6 minutes', but I went ahead and said, "Hey, thanks for writing down all that feminist propaganda for me. I think I'll be able to use some of it in the column."

"Good," she said. "It definitely beats `dumb blond' jokes."

"Boy, you sure do have empathy for blonds, don't you? Now why is that?"

"Because," she said with a smile, "I may just decide to become one someday."

Yoshie, "and I think that was the way a lot of us who lived through those terrible days dealt with it. Not much was ever said to our children, either, but I can still remember how proud we were of our son when he wrote a paper about the internment camps in college that everyone wanted to read. A few years back, the government did give all the survivors $20,000 dollars each, but unfortunately, most of the older people who had suffered the most were already gone. No amount of money can make up for being sent to a concentration camp, anyway."

Yoshie has always had a lot of energy and she is still blessed with good health. She is very active in her Buddhist church and she also donates her time to the Senior Nutrition Program.

"I've always enjoyed gardening and that still keeps me pretty busy," said Yoshie. "It's also wonderful to spend time with my children and grandchildren, and I try to do that as often as possible."

Yoshie's three children are Richard, who has a PhD in engineering from the University of California at Los Angeles; Jane, who works in the travel agency business and is a graduate of the University of California at Berkeley; and Phyllis, who graduated from the University of California at Davis and works for the State of California.

Yoshie also has four grandchildren; Julie, Lisa, Keith and Ryan.

"My mother is not only courageous and resilient," said Yoshie's daughter, Phyllis, "but she also has a fun-loving spirit and a joy for life. She has been very influential in all of her children's lives, especially in making sure we did well in school, and although she has been through a lot, she has endured and survived it all and is a wonderful example of what a good mother should be."

Ose reports flood control funds

Congressman Doug Ose has announced that he has secured $22.6 million in local flood control and water construction projects for the Third Congressional District, which includes West Sacramento.

The projects were included in the Energy and Water Development Appropriations bill, which passed the House 420-8.

Included in the funding will be money for the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers to perform work on the levees on the West Sacramento side of the Sacramento Bypass.

changed after the conferences.

Farmer reported that he "had a brief conversation with (Flint) about the agenda item."

"It has to do with personnel," he said. "My concern with how it was worded. I just felt the way it was worded it could be taken many different ways."

Following the meeting with Flint, reported Farmer, he "briefly" conversed with Westvik about the same issue.

The News-Ledger has learned that the original agenda item for tomorrow referred to a possible Brown Act violation by the board – and included wording that was unflattering to Superintendent Dennis Kelleher. The final agenda released after Friday's board member discussion, however, referred only to a closed session discussion of a "possible violation of the Brown Act," and contained no reference to the superintendent. Citing a concern for "anticipated litigation," board will discuss the Brown Act matter behind closed doors.

Superintendent Kelleher could not be reached for comment.

Recent News-Ledger items have referred to several possible Brown Act violations by the school board – most notably the board's July 22 "approval by consensus" of a new interim principal for the local high school. The hiring did not appear to be on the board's agenda for that evening.

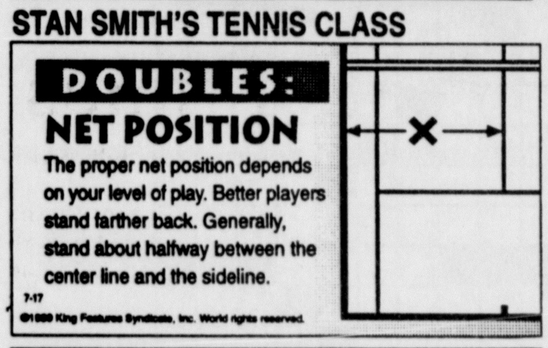

And, although the appointment was announced press release the next day from Superintendent Kelleher, district officials later said that the board's approval was only preliminary and that candidate Gary Hartman was not actually hired.

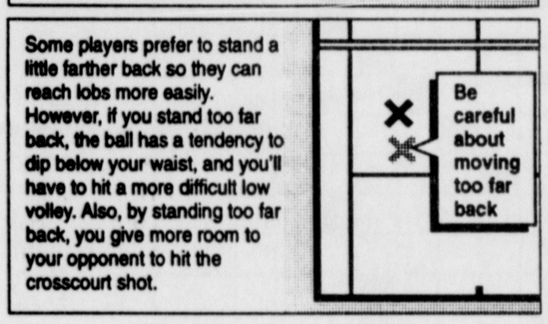

The board will consider hiring Hartman – or hiring him again – tomorrow.

News-Ledger Editorial

Just a technicality

Why care about the Brown Act?

Why worry whether West Sacramento's school board sticks to the "technicalities" of proper agendas and public meetings? Can't we all just look the other way (as some board members have privately suggested) when the board stumbles over these laws? Can't we give the school board and staff a break, especially considering that negative publicity about them could endanger the upcoming school bond?

No.

The News-Ledger has reported at least three different possible violations of the Brown Act by the school board in the past few weeks, and each of the instances presents special reasons for concern. But let's take the highest-profile case as an example, and see how ignoring a "technicality" could lead to trouble for Washington Unified and the community.

Let's start with what is actually known about that incident:

-- The July 22 school board agenda included a closed-door meeting with a "possible interim administrator." It made no mention of the administrator's position and gave no indication that he would be hired on the spot.

-- At this closed-session meeting, the superintendent introduced to the school board a possible candidate for the interim principal's position at the local high school – a position the candidate was expected to fill for at least several months.

-- The candidate was an acquaintance of the superintendent.

-- During this meeting, the superintendent showed copies of the candidate's resume to the board for the first time.

-- No other candidates were forwarded for the board's consideration.

-- The board was not given advance notice of the candidate's qualifications, and had little opportunity to research his suitability for River City High School.

-- The superintendent requested the board's approval of the candidate's hiring for the principal's post on the spot.

-- The board, "by consensus," obliged this request, probably breaking the law (or, if you prefer, "overlooking a legal technicality").

-- Any "interim" principal would – if he was interested in applying – receive an advantage over other candidates in any competition for the permanent principal's job.

-- River City High School is the "flagship" campus of Washington Unified, and the high school's fortunes are tied closely to those of the district and community

-- Having already approved and announced the hiring, the district is under some pressure to make the same decision again when it reconsiders the same item tomorrow.

The sort-of-already-hired candidate may now be under the understanding that he has been offered the job and has accepted it. Guess what could happen if the school board now changes its mind.

Are the potential problems of this situation becoming clear?

True, the deal could work out for the best. The temporary principal could be terrific for River City High School. The superintendent and board may have done an excellent job of assessing the gentleman's abilities and looking out for the best interests of the district when they approved him. The teachers and students could love him. The mishandling of the July 22 meeting may be meaningless and inconsequential.

Or, on the other hand:

The hiring could have been due to cronyism. The candidate may not have been adequately scrutinized. He may be a poor fit for River City. Ahead may be trouble for the high school, the school board, district staff and the school bond.

Take your pick of the two scenarios. But remember: the possibilities are separated only by a "legal technicality."

Disrespectful Supe

Yesterday (July 20) I was present at the meeting of the Yolo County Board of Supervisors. One of the agenda items was the proposed split of a 40 acre Williamson Act contract on Road 97D, comprising the farm Impossible Acres. During public comment, the board was addressed by Desmond Jolly, an authority on small farms and diversified agriculture. While Dr. Jolly was addressing the members of the Board, the chairman, Mike McGowan, left his seat and spent several minutes talking to various members of the audience, while ignoring Dr. Jolly. The chairman's fellow Board members were visibly embarrassed.

I have never seen an elected official commit such an egregious display of disrespect, rudeness, and blatant disregard for public opinion. If this is a representative instance of Mr. McGowan's conduct as a member of the Board of Supervisors, then I suggest that the voters of Yolo County consider his candidacy carefully should he run for reelection at the conclusion of his current term of office.

Pro-Bill Bradley

Last Thursday, July 22, Senator Bill Bradley, a Democratic candidate for President of the United States, made a major address on "Money and Politics", to the National Press Club.

In that speech he said that money is to politics as acid is to cloth: that it eats away at the fabric of democracy. He outlined how money breaks down trust in a democracy, by building a wall between the people and their representatives.

He then said that "it doesn't have to be that way for our country. Democracy doesn't have to be a commodity that is bought and sold." And he outlined a plan "to make money much less important (in politics) and ideas, character, and experience count for much more."

This plan includes campaign finance reform, (no soft money, limited donations from individuals, matched with public funds); free television time to all candidates the last sixty days before the election; and encouraging full participation by voters, including same-day registration laws, where anyone can register and vote on election day. As Bradley said, "no one should ever be told that just because they didn't get interested in the election until November, they're not entitled to vote."

This was, for me, an inspiring and exciting speech. I write to encourage you to cover Mr. Bradley and his remarks, so more people can become familiar with his candidacy and his ideas. This speech was covered on C-SPAN; perhaps the News-Ledger could notify its readers when major addresses (by all of the candidates) will appear on C-SPAN.

Readers who are linked to the internet can get more information about Bill Bradley and the campaign at www.billbradley.com, or if not, call me at (530) 668-7940.

Angry at Republicans

(1) Treason: One nuclear submarine could destroy any country on Earth before the Reagan presidency. Yet the Republicans still spent trillions of the national wealth on defense. They have continued to spend more trillions after the cold war ended in 1991.

(2) Bribery: Republicans have received billions in explicit or implicit bribes from defense contractors, tobacco companies, billionaires, polluters, and the NRA.

(3) Other High Crimes and Misdemeanors: Republicans made the U.S. the largest debtor nation in world history, consistently oppose raising the minimum wage, and regularly oppose funds for education, the environment, and health care.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY NOTES

Last Thursday Mrs. J. N. Bennetts and Mrs. Fred L. White, Jr., returned from Wheatland after spending a few days at the home of Mrs. Jasper.

Yesterday afternoon Bill Campbell was taken seriously ill at the Hoffman House and for a time his friends believed that he was in danger. After resting a while Bill recovered sufficiently to go to Sacramento for medical treatment. Lately he has been devoting many hours every day to his work, neglecting his meals and neglecting to take the necessary preventives to sickness, with the result above shown.

E. C. White of Riverbank has been deputized a deputy by Sheriff Munroe during the period of the railroad strike. White reports that so far he has not run into any trouble in the performance of his duty.

Jimmie Van Baaren, who is employed in Car Shop Nine in Sacramento, was thrown off his bicycle near the end of the bridge last Tuesday evening while on his way to his home. Four men, unknown in this locality, attacked him but, fortu-

Miss Nola Scott was taken to the Woodland hospital last Wednesday by Constable Buckingham. She had been suffering severely from a nervous breakdown and being unable to have necessary attention her physician advised her to go to the hospital.

Mrs. George Beale and children came home from Santa Cruz last night after spending nearly a month at the sea shore.

Friends of Charlie McKay returning from Santa Cruz report that he is thoroughly domesticated already, although he has been married but a few days. It is even reported that he likes house work so well he dries the dishes after every meal. McKay was always known for his gallantry and now that he is enjoying the fruits of married life begins to appreciate what he lost during many years of bachelorhood.

Miss Mollie Armstrong returned to her home at Cosumnes last Wednesday after spending a few days at the Leinberger home.

Supervisor Leinberger returned from the State Supervisors' convention which was held at Eureka, Humboldt County, last Sunday. He reports that many important discussions were held at the convention and that the association will take an active part in looking after legislation at the next session of the legislature.

A. Caffero spent last Saturday and Sunday at the home of his parents. He is engaged at Pittsburg, Contra Costa County, and returned there last Monday evening.

Sheriff J. W. Monroe was a visitor here yesterday, building up his defenses and strengthening his trenches of attack. Sheriff Monroe has been spending a good deal of time in this district getting acquainted with the many new residents who have moved here during the past few years. His popularity seems to be gaining although there are some who have been casting sly glances at the other candidates for the office of sheriff of Yolo County.

Doris Norton, accompanied by her mother, brothers and sister, came home from Santa Cruz last Monday after spending a vacation at the sea shore of about a month.

Mrs. H. M. Eugene returned from San Francisco, where she went with a group of members of the War Mothers to visit soldiers ill at Letterman Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Reese Peek have returned from Calgary, Canada, and are spending a few days visiting friends in San Francisco before returning to Washington.

J. R. Williams has returned from a business trip to Isleton.

Miss Bernice Butters was given a surprise party Wednesday at the home of Mrs. H. Garber. The evening was spent with games and music followed by a supper.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dunlap and Mrs. W. L. Butters were Oak Park guests who were present in addition to a number of Washington friends.

Henry Moot of Santa Rosa is visting at the home of Mrs. Sarah Garber.

Mrs. Ed White has returned to her home in Bryte from a Sacramento hospital, where she spent the past three weeks following an operation.

P. O. Van Deren and family returned from an outing at Ice House Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Jasper, after a visit in Sebastopol, returned to Wheatland accompanied by Mrs. J. N. Bennett. Mrs. F. L. White, Jr., also returned with them from Sebastopol.

Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Cook returned from a visit in Napa. Cook has been confined to his home this week by illness.

J. Stinebaugh has gone to Grass Valley for a visit with his daughter, Mrs. Wilbur Moss. Mrs. Elizabeth Wood returned from visiting Mrs. Moss.

Mr. and Mrs. Ward Pagnello, Mrs. Ann Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Thomas and Mrs. Ella Carson spent Sunday in an outing at Coloma.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Brash and daughter of Oakland came up to visit relatives in Washington and Sacramento.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Wilcox have as their guests Rev. and Mrs. B. W. Marsh of Orange, Orange County. The visitors motored up from their home, accompanied by Dr. Clara L. Treat and Mrs. O. Hickey, who have now gone to San Francisco for a short stay. Mrs. Marsh is a sister of Wilcox.

Mrs. E. L. Blackington went to Woodland for a short visit with her husband, who is ill in a Woodland hospital.

Mrs. Belle Davis and daughter, Altha Porter, returned from a trip of several weeks in Oregon. During their stay they visited in Portland and Pacific City, and enjoyed the beauties of the Columbia Highway trip.

P. A. Hart is dismantling the barge used for the past few days by the Metro Pictures Corporation in making a new film.

J. H. ("Dick") Strong and Dr. Joyce of Wodland were visitors in Washington last Saturday.

F. H. Todhunter has returned to Knights Landing after spending a few days in Washington.

Miss Leona Williams, who underwent a slight operation at the Sisters' Hospital, has returned to her home.

Have you noticed how glad the politicians are to meet you now?

Two months from now they won't know you.

NEAR TRAGEDY IN SNIDER HOME FIRE YESTERDAY MORNING

Were it not for the presence of mind of Mrs. Tom Snider yesterday morning, in getting her husband out of their home after fire had started, a tragedy would surely have occurred because of the helplessness of Mr. Snider.

Losing no time when it became evident she could not extinguish the flames herself, she called for help and neighbors and friends carried Tom Snider from the blazing premises.

As Mrs. Snider tells of the occurrence it appears that in some inexplicable manner a fire started in a clothes closet in the front bedroom of the dwelling. Noticing the smoke, Mrs. Snider tried to extinguish the blaze, but failing in her attempt, she recognized that the most important duty she had to perform was to get her helpless husband out of the house. Children playing in the vicinity heard her cries and notified the neighbors.

It was then that Snider was removed while the flames crackled all around the helpless man and the heat became intense.

Outside the building Snider was secure from the flames but the home was nearly consumed. Fortunately, many members of the volunteer fire department of the town were around their homes owing to the railroad strike, and they responded immediately after the fire bell rang from the tower of the town hall.

Immediately following the arrival of the volunteer department two good streams of water and a chemical engine played on the burning building, saving two of the rear rooms from destruction. The front portion of the house was practically ruined and will have to be rebuilt.

Insurance was carried on the building and piano but there was no insurance on the contents except that on the piano.

A good deal of the valuables lost in the structure are a total loss and great piles of clothing were ruined.

Mrs. Snider had her face and hair and hands singed, but not seriously, in her effort to extinguish the flames after they started in the closet.

The Snider home is located at Fourth and Harriett Streets. It has been occupied by them during the past twenty-two years but was remodeled about thirteen years ago.

The original building was one of the landmarks in this section of Yolo County having been brought from the East in a sailing ship around the Horn in the early fifties.

Tom Snider was supervisor in this district of Yolo County for several years. A few years ago he was seriously injured in a grading camp in Arizona when he sustained a fractured hip that has gradually become a means of crippling him. Several months ago he was stricken with paralysis and for some weeks past has been entirely helpless, even being forced to remain in his bed almost night and day.

Following the fire of yesterday he was removed to a Sacramento hospital so as to have constant medical attention until his home is rebuilt.

NO HUNTING!

This is to notify the public that the California Fish and Game Commission has liberated herds of elk on our cattle range in Yolo, Lake and Colusa Counties. This range commences approximately four miles west of Rumsey, near and including the Ray House Range, extending up and including Cache Creek six miles, thence in a northeasterly direction, crossing Bear Creek approximately eight miles above the junction of of Cache and Bear Creeks and bounded on the east by Cortana Mountain and including that part of the range formerly owned by the Stovall-Wilcoxson Company, called the "Hamilton Place," which is the northern boundary.

Any one found hunting on these premises will be prosecuted according to law.

WOODLAND MAN SAVED FROM DEATH IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Woodland, Aug. 1.—Luke Spurgeon of this city had a close call from drowning in an irrigation ditch on the State highway just this side of Washington yesterday morning when he was stricken ill while driving his car to Sacramento. Due to a stroke, believed to be partial paralysis, he was rendered practically unconscious and was unable to manipulate his car. The machine veered from the side of the highway, went off the grade, throwing Spurgeon into an irrigation ditch. A passerby happened to notice his predicament and according to report just saved his life by pulling him out. He was removed to this city and is being cared for.

It's an ill wind that blows nobody good.

But where do they get all the money?

CONSTRUCTION OF ELKHORN ROAD PROGRESSING

Contractors are busily engaged in construction of the River Road north from the Sacramento By-pass to Elkhorn.

Many great trucks are hauling material to a location on the road near Beatrice station and already about 2000 feet of the road has been completed.

Shortage of material for road construction has been delaying the work during the past few days but the contractors promise that the entire stretch of roadway will be completed by the end of August of the middle of September.

The road between the Church in West Sacramento and River View has been surveyed and bids are about to be asked for its construction. One delay is being experienced by the supervisors on this stretch of roadway. When the survey was made it was found that the roadway was not the required width and hence extra rights of way were needed for that width.

All property owners of the district bordering on the road have willingly donated the necessary ten feet to make the road the regulation width and only one resident of San Francisco who owns some property in the district refuses to donate the ten feet necessary.

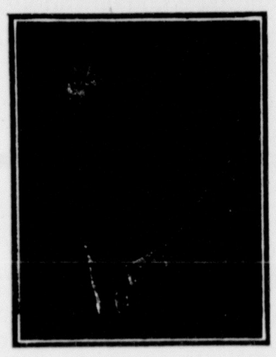

The supervisors are now negotiating with him so that it is believed the necessary land can be secured in a few days. When this is accomplished bids for the construction of the road will be advertised and Supervisor Leinberger believes that the work will be completed before the early fall rains.

The daughter of a millionaire was sent to jail in Los Angeles the other day for six hours for being impertinent to a judge.

Trinity: new pastor

From Trinity Presbyterian Church

After two years under the leadership of two interim pastors, the Reverend Lynne Vandercook and the Reverend Dr. Keith Posehn, the congregation of Trinity Presbyterian Church is celebrating the arrival of its new permanent pastor, the Reverend David Huusko. Pastor Huusko is a Northern California native who was born and reared in the Bay Area. His last position was Associate Pastor at Woods Memorial Presbyterian Church in Severna Park, Maryland, where he developed programs for middle school children through college age adults, including the Holy Grounds Coffee House where young people could congregate and just hang out in a safe environment. His experience in youth ministry has equipped him to deal with the problems of all ages.

Pastor Huusko's first sermon will be delivered on Sunday, August 22. Trinity Presbyterian Church is located at the corner of Park Boulevard and Westacres Road. Sunday School is at 9:00 a.m. and the blended contemporary and traditional worship service is at 10:00 a.m. Child care is provided. The congregation of Trinity hopes you will join us in worship very soon. For information, call 371-5875.

No pre-bid meeting is scheduled for this project.

THIS PROJECT IS SUBJECT TO THE "BUY AMERICA" PROVISIONS OF THE SURFACE TRANSPORTATION ASSISTANCE ACT OF 1982 AS AMENDED BY THE INTERMODAL SURFACE TRANSPORTATION EFFICIENCY ACT OF 1991.

At the time this Contract is awarded, the Contractor shall possess either a Class A General Engineering Contractor's License or a combination of Class C Licenses which constitutes a majority of the work issued by the State of California.

This Contract is subject to State contract nondiscrimination and compliance requirements pursuant to Government Code Section 12990.

Plans and specifications, and proposal forms for bidding this project can only be obtained at the office of the Director of Community Development of the CITY OF WEST SACRAMENTO, located at 1951 South River Road, West Sacramento, California 95691-2816 (telephone 916-373-5854). A nonrefundable payment of $40.00 for each set is required if picked up, and $50.00 if mailed.

No bid will be accepted unless it is made on the Proposal Form provided in these Special Provisions.

Bids are required for the entire work described herein.

Each proposal must be accompanied by cash, a cashier's check, certified check or bid bond, executed on the prescribed form, in an amount not less than ten (10) percent of the total bid price payable to the City of West Sacramento. Such guarantee will be forfeited should the bidder to whom the contract is awarded fail to enter into the contract.

Bidders are hereby notified that in accordance with the provisions of Government Code Section 4590, securities may be substituted for any monies which the City may withhold pursuant to the terms of this Contract to ensure performance. Such securities, if deposited by the Contractor, shall be valued by the owner, whose decision on valuation of the securities shall be final. Securities eligible for investment under this provision shall be limited to those listed in Section 22300 of the Public Contract Code and section 16430 of the Government Code.

The Department of Community Development hereby notifies all bidders that it will affirmatively insure that in any contract entered into pursuant to the advertisement, disadvantaged business enterprises will be afforded full opportunity to submit bids in response to this invitation and will not be discriminated against on the grounds of race, color, or national origin in consideration for an award.

Pursuant to Section 1773 of the Labor Code, the general prevailing rate of wages in the City in which the work is done has been determined by the Director of the Department of Industrial Relations. For bidding purposes these wage rate publications may be examined at the offices described above where project plans, Special Provisions, and proposal forms may be obtained. Future effective wage rates which have been predetermined and are on file with the Department of Industrial Relations are referenced but not printed in said publication.

Minimum wage rates for this project as predetermined by the Secretary of Labor are set forth in the Special Provisions. If there is a difference between the minimum wage rates predetermined by the Secretary of Labor and the prevailing wage rates determined by the Department of Industrial Relations for similar classifications of labor, the Contractor and his subcontractors shall pay not less than the higher wage rate. The Community Development Department will not accept lower State wage rates not specifically included in the Federal wage determinations. This includes "helper" (or other classifications based on hours of experience) or any other classification not appearing in the Federal wage determinations. Where Federal wage determinations do not contain the State wage rate determination otherwise available for use by the Contractor and subcontractors, the Contractor and subcontractors shall pay not less than the Federal minimum wage rate which most closely approximates the duties of the employees in question.

Attention is directed to the provisions of Public Contracts Code Section 5101 and following, concerning relief of bidders and in particular to the requirements therein that if the bidder claims a mistake was made in his bid, the bidder shall give the City written notice, within five (5) calendar days after the opening of bids of the alleged mistake, specifying in the notice, in detail, how the mistake occurred.

The City reserves the right to reject any and all bids, and to determine which proposal is, in its judgment, the lowest responsive bid of a responsible bidder and which proposal should be accepted in the best interests of the City.

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF ALVIN ELMER SCHLAUCH
CASE NUMBER PB99.135

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, ALVIN ELMER SCHLAUCH:

A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by ARLA MAE COTTON in the Superior Court of California, County of Yolo.

THE PETITION requests ARLA MAE COTTON be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

THE PETITION requests the decedent's will and codicils, if any, be admitted to probate. The will and any codicils are available for examination in the file kept by the court.

THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A HEARING on the petition will be held on Sept. 2, 1999, at 8:30 a.m. in Dept. 2 located at 725 Court Street, Woodland, CA 95695.

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the deceased, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within four months from the date of first issuance of letters as provided in section 9100 of the California Probate Code. The time for filing claims will not expire before four months from the hearing date noticed above.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a formal Request for Special Notice of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in section 1250 of the California Probate Code. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

Can you help?

West Sacramento resident Deanana Hazen, who used to work for the West Sacramento Police Department and is now employed by the Sacramento City Unified School District, has asked that the News-Ledger bring your attention to the following:

Jonathan Guenther, a 12-year old boy whose mother works with Deanana, was diagnosed in 1995 with cancer of the spine, which caused paralysis of the legs. Doctors were able to operate and remove part of the tumors and with chemotherapy and radiation treatments, Jonathan's feelings in his legs were restored. In April of 1996, a tumor was found on his heart. Radiation treatments in conjunction with numerous hospital stays for the next 18 months were able to help, but in February of 1998, another two tumors were found, this time in Jonathan's left lung. Doctors again operated and were able to remove the tumors. With the cancer in remission, Jonathan finally started to live a normal life. But in July of 1999, inoperable tumors were discovered on both sides of Jonathan's brain and doctor's informed the family that Jonathan had between six weeks and six months to live.

Jonathan is a bright, courageous, intelligent young boy who only has two wishes, which are that he live as long as he can and go see Lego Land near San Diego. His mother, being a single parent raising two children, has no funds to accommodate his wish.

Donations are sought to try to finance a trip to Lego Land this month. Any excess donations will be set aside as a memorial fund.
